

Let me ask you a couple questions?

Are you tired of looking old? Are you tired of the covid lockups? Are you tired of being broke? Have you lost that spark of excitement you had when you were younger and want to get it back? Are you tired of the same boring routine and want to make a change? Are you tired of your boss or your job and wonder if there really is a way to get out from under the chains and have true personal freedom? Would you like to perform like you did in high school or college, or maybe break down that wall that keeps you from reaching your next physical goal? Would you like to gain back that energy you seem to have lost instead of sleeping or loafing away a lot of your day? Would you like to get back that sparkle in your eye and the skin of a youngster?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, would you like to know how to change your financial situation while taking care of some or all those questions?

If I told you there are thousands of people around the world just like you who have discovered the secret and are changing their lives daily, would you like to be one of them?

Do you know that beauty sells but health changes everything?

Do you know that women are the number one marketers in the world and most NEVER get paid for what they do? What do you think most women focus much of their energy on and put their money into? I am not talking about their family, but their personal self.

This might be subjective but how about their dress fifth, their shoes forth, their purse third, their hair second and their face first. If you do not believe it, go into any high-end mall, and see how many stores cater to the items mentioned. Go into any regular store and see how much shelf space is dedicated to the items mentioned.

Everyone wants to look and feel better, right? Would you be interested in a product that can radically change your physical and financial self?

If you found this product could potentially change everything about your inside and outside physical being, would you be interested?

As a woman, if you found this product changed your body to a far better you, would you talk about it just like everything else you are excited about, but this time get paid for it?

If you are a man, but also found this product made you a far better you, do you think you would tell others and potentially engage those 80% underpaid marketers, especially if it had the potential to change their and your financial situation?

I am not talking about the tens of thousands of products you have seen in your life on store shelves, on TV, or hyped to you on the internet. You know what I am talking about, all kinds of claims and testimonials, but NONE of them work for you or anyone you know.

The reason these products do not work is they just plain do not work. Others are based on some research with clinical results of a specific product, but there is NO WAY to deliver that product to the cells in your body efficiently. Most of the product delivered in your body is a fraction of what they claim is in the bottle.

This is not an attempt to cheat you, but a fact that the current technology just will not work properly.

I am talking about a product that is a revolutionary breakthrough technology. What is a breakthrough technology? It means that it is so far superior to the current technology that there is no comparison. It is usually better by an order of magnitude, like ten times better and is far less expensive.

I am talking about a product that will give virtually immediate results compared to anything you have ever experienced before. There is no need to wait for promised results that never come. How excited do you think others around you, and you would become when changes become apparent in days to months? We are talking about your whole body, not just your outer appearance.

As example, the old technology skin care products tout how they will clear wrinkles, so they put this magic jell on your face that tightens the skin and looks great in the beauty shop, but the wrinkles return as soon as you wash the chemicals off. Or worse yet they use Botox which is just a poison that swells your face to stretch out the wrinkles. Do you know many of the beauty products for your face are just poisons creating the same swelling effect? I saw a woman the other day with Botox that literally looked like her face was painted on a basketball. We have a product that will bring back the natural beauty of your skin, and in many cases, people will think you had a face lift.

In another example, one of our product users broke the world record for bench pressing when he was age 49 at 804 pounds, just before he retired. He was one of the strongest men in the world. Ten years later, age had caught up to him, but he was still pressing over 700 pounds. He then started as one of the few in the world secretly testing the product. In January 2022 at the age of 62 he set the world record again at 1129 pounds. Who says you must go downhill all your life as you age? Imagine what this product could do for you and others?

Do you think people would want this product? Do you think it would be easy to excite people about this product? What would happen if people around you see the effects on you and you could change your financial situation just by letting others demand to have what you have? Even if you could care less about your appearance or health, would you talk about the product knowing the majority care about their appearance, and you could benefit from their desires?

This product IS the magic molecule that is natural and normally produced by every cell in your body, in every plant, in every animal, in every living thing. Without it, life would not exist. Without it you cannot get oxygen from your lungs to your cells. It is known to be involved in over 400 chemical reactions in your body. It is a chelator extracting toxins from your body. It is the protector of your mitochondria DNA. It is the modulator for your immune system literally determining when you get sick, how long you are sick, and even if you get sick at all. Check out how many people who caught covid had low amounts of this molecule. The main function it is known for is being the master antioxidant. It literally fights free radicals which steal an electron from your cells causing aging and death. It is the most powerful anti-inflammatory. In fact, it is the most studied molecule in molecular biology with over 170,000 clinical studies in PubMed. Compare that with Vitamin C with 71,000 studies. Vitamin C along with all other antioxidants need this molecule to function correctly.

The molecule is called glutathione. It was discovered in 1888 but it took until 1929 to extract it from the cells. In the 1950 they started to attempt to supplement glutathione in the body because of its importance. It is used in hospital IVs in extreme poison situations where the body needs to rapidly remove the toxins. As early as 15 years ago and even today the best technology was to bind glutathione or its precursor L-Cystine into lipids for ingestion to try to raise the body's glutathione levels.

So, what is the problem? There are three major challenges. First glutathione has a half life of 90 minutes. This means within 24 to 48 hours of getting new glutathione into the body, it is virtually gone. This means you need a NEW source of glutathione EVERY DAY, or at least its precursor amino acid L-Cystine.

Second, glutathione and L-Cystine are very fragile molecules and are destroyed by the gut before they can enter your blood and eventually your cells. The current technology tries to package the glutathione in oils, sugars, chemical bindings, and other methods to get the molecules past the stomach. This means only a FRACTION of the product makes it to the cells, and in many cases like NAC, create some unfavorable reactions causing the USA FDA to label it a drug.

The main challenge is your liver makes most of the glutathione for your body, but it starts to lose about 8 to 15 percent production per decade. By the time you are 70 you have less than half the glutathione production you had at the age of 20, yet your body is under the same attacks as when you were 20. If you do not supplement your glutathione DAILY, it is no wonder we age and die.

Why is our product a breakthrough over the other products in the market for delivering glutathione and L-Cystine to the cells? The answer is simple, other products are either chemically bound or are HUGE compared to the cell and must be broken into the three precursor amino acids, L-Cystine, Y-Glutamate, and Glycine. This is true even when the glutathione is in an IV injected directly into the blood, and it takes over an hour breaking down the glutathione and recombining the amino acids in the cells back to glutathione. Our product uses a technology that takes water purer than an IV and creates little envelopes of water to carry individual molecules of glutathione and L-Cystine. You literally infuse billions of glutathione molecules swishing in your mouth like a mouth wash for a couple minutes sublingually under your tongue and in the cheeks before swallowing. Also, we have a spray for the skin that allows the individual molecules to penetrate the skin through all layers. You literally provide glutathione and L-Cystine directly into the cells within seventy seconds or one circulation of the blood stream.

The technology difference for delivery is radical and only available with our product. It is the difference between making a recording on a tape recorder, mailing the cassette, having your client put the tape in their machine then listening to your recording, or sending them a voice message via your phone. The message (glutathione) is the same but the difference in delivery is so radical, no one sends tape recordings anymore. In addition, the cost is much lower and convenient than the old technology.

How much would you expect to spend for such a miracle product? If you were to get an IV, it would cost you between $125 to $500 a day. In addition, you would have to go to the hospital or have an in-home nurse administer the shot. The closest competitors marketing with the older technology delivers a fraction of our product and costs about $160 or more per month and NONE of them can show honest lasting before and after results within days to months of using the product.

Our product is available for $65 for a month supply and most people will have visible results within their first 30 days. In fact, if you act now, you can get both our products for $100 and start fixing the outside to inside at the same time you start fixing the inside to the outside. This is two different products for a little over half of what the competitor charges for ONE product that attempts to fix half the problem.

I am not going to wait until you order, then try to upsell you on the product. I will be up front. Your choices are going to be $65 per product, $50 each for two or more, $300 for seven, $500 for eleven, or 25 for $1000 saving almost 40% per bottle. Additionally, if you get a quarterly Home Delivery, you will pay $300 for seven bottles and earn 300 points. For every point purchased on monthly orders you will get a point towards an additional free product. Every 500 points will provide one new product.

If you are ready to order, skip to the end and press the "Engage Button". If you want to know how to earn while sharing this product, then read on.

Would you like to receive your product at the absolute lowest price? You have already been exposed to the price when buying in quantity. When buying in quantity, you receive all the product at once, you save on shipping, and orders over $300 in special packs include extra product.

When you find three individuals over time who regularly purchase the product, you will receive a $50 bonus check every month they all reorder. You will also receive $21 minimum for your effort. This now makes your product less than a dollar a day for BOTH products combined. Surely you agree that all the benefits mentioned at the start of this video, both physical and financial, are easily worth a dollar a day.

When your three contacts share with three others who regularly purchase the product, you will receive a $250 bonus check every month they all reorder. You are now getting paid to use the product. Who would not want to get paid while using this age reversing product?

When these nine new contacts share with three others who regularly purchase the product, you will receive a $1500 bonus check every month they all reorder. You are now on your way to building a business and offsetting inflation at the same time. Do you know the average person will need to earn an additional $5000 this year to cover the cost of inflation and live like they did a year ago?

There is no immediate end to the inflation we are undergoing. How are you and your family going to survive in two or three years with a financial crisis mirroring Venezuela?

The beauty of the business is you can keep building unlimited $1500 bonus checks just by finding three new customers and teaching them to duplicate the same process as your previous customers.

If you are serious, do you know you can build your own $250 bonus check without depending on anyone? Yes, YOU can find your own nine customers who like the product without depending on your three to find three. In fact, you can find your own additional twenty-seven customers for the $1500 bonus.

You will not be alone in the team building process. If you know this is an incredible financial opportunity, why would everyone else not see the same opportunity?

It is even easier. You can use this webpage to introduce the product and opportunity to anyone you direct to this webpage. You will get credit for your referrals.

Would you like to make even MORE sharing this product? There are five additional ways to earn income sharing this product! Here is the secret, only a few thousand people know about this product and opportunity, and it is available for sharing around the world TODAY.

Now buckle up because virtually everything has been done for you except your own effort to introduce the product. We have many support websites, training, back office, cell phone apps, social media marketing, videos, and a debit card to take your earning around the world.

What will your friends say when they see the changes in your body, and you are going wherever and whenever you want? Your body and your checkbook will be under YOUR control once again.
